Cannot Get Stale

Grocery goods are continually passing through our store from producer to consumer, so there's no chance of deterioration. We do such a large business that there's no room here for worm-bugs or "blue-beans." That and our low pricing prove this the ideal place in town for groceries buying.

Mr. Hooking has spent the greater part of his life in Jacksonville and his absolute integrity is well known to everyone well acquainted with him. For years he has been in a position to gain accurate, practical knowledge of the business of electric lighting and the machinery pertaining thereto, while his knowledge of city affairs generally will enable him more successfully to perform the duties which will be incumbent on him.

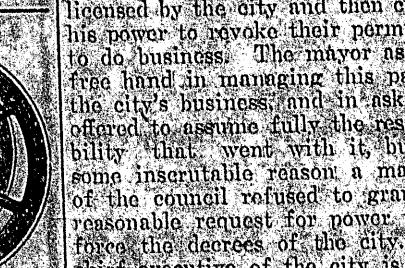

It is difficult to see why there should have been any opposition to the ordinance granting the mayor power to revoke the license of a convicted law-breaking saloonkeeper. The head of the city council is held responsible for all infractions of the law. Right or wrong, all evil and villainies in the city are charged to him. In the city for reform the voices were directed toward the mayor as the head and practically responsible for all that was done in the city. It is certainly hard to tie a man's legs together and ask him to run. It is hard to ask a man to be responsible for the acts of persons licensed by the city and then curtail his power to revoke their permission to do business. The mayor asked a free hand in managing this part of the city's business, and in asking it offered to assume fully the responsibility that went with it but for some inscrutable reason a majority of the council refused to grant this reasonable request for power to enforce the decrees of the city. The chief executive of the city is doing his best to enforce the laws as they exist and should be given credit therefor and receive full allowance for the failure of the lawmakers to give him a fair opportunity to execute the statutes as they stand.

front as one of the paramount issues of the time. Conditions exist in Philadelphia, Chicago and other centers that are taxing the ability of the best citizens. Internal conflict has been narrowly averted in several instances. The times have produced men of peculiar type and who by the stand they have taken have made themselves known far and wide. Among the number may be mentioned Governor LaFollette, Governor Holt, Mayor Weaver, Thomas K. Dixon and Mayor Dinnie. The last named has sought to solve the traction question, and while his hopes were high, the foreign expert, who came as the Moser to lead us out of the wilderness of traction, has declared that the methods employed in England and Europe are impossible of adoption here on account of our being a republic.

These are some of the signs of the times. The question is, how shall we interpret these signs? Back of all this agitation and so-called reform is there a desire on the part of the people for a new era of the republic? Will the issues of the present, the issues of peace, be met with that same courage and determination that has worked such wonders in the past?

Europe pictured us at the close of the civil war with a vast army of men suddenly released from military control, roving over the commonwealth and leaving in their path the evidences of disorder, discontent and ruin. But how grandly and how slowly the vast army of both north and south melted away, and before there was time to alarm the men who had carried the musket and faced the cannon's mouth were employed at the bench, behind the desk and in the professions, and the warrior had become a mighty factor in the great host that was marching on to greater peace and prosperity.

With each decade come new issues. The decade between 1880 and 1890 brought us both the issue of depression and failure and that of war with a foreign nation. These two issues stirred the country from center to circumference. They both, however, proved a shaking up that gave us new vigor as a people and reunited us as a nation in a stronger bond of union.

The present decade seems fraught with large problems which loom in magnitude to heights that at times almost stagger the beholder. The future must be faced with confidence. The pessimist may cry out with despair, but the optimist can answer his cry and laugh it to scorn as long as he sees the American people taking a vital interest in the settlement of the questions of the hour. How long will the republic endure? Just as long as the people are citizens indeed and not in name, citizens exercising the powers of kingship, administering for themselves and by themselves.

YATES OPENS CAMPAIGN

At Dixon, last Wednesday, former Governor Yates fired the first gun of the coming senatorial campaign and, according to the dispatches was able to stir up a good deal of very genuine enthusiasm among his audience. There is no denying the fact that Richard Yates has a good many friends in Illinois. This was demonstrated at the state convention where the deadlock held until broken by the support of the governor and with his approval. Governor Deneen is behind his candidacy and this will bring to his standard the bulk of those who enjoy state patronage. In addition to the endorsement of the governor, he has the support of a great many shrewd politicians in Illinois, men who have been enjoying his patronage while he was governor and who would now like to see him in the United States senate in order that they might feed fat on federal patronage.

But ex-Governor Yates has a fight ahead of him. He has against him one of the hardest fighters and one of the wisest statesmen who ever sat in the United States senate. He is striving to stamp the foot from a man who has crown gray in the political service of his state and his country, and has never known defeat. A man whose action has a moving influence on the most powerful and dignified legislative council that exists in the world to day. A man who is in perfect accord with the policy of President Roosevelt. A man whose friends will stay with him to the bitter end without thought of defeat or compromise.

It remains to be seen who will win. Richard Yates has accomplished some wonderful things for so young a man. His supporters are well organized and loyal, but if he defeats Senator Cullom he may write it as one of the most notable victories that have ever been achieved in the political annals of this state—People's Transcript.

INTERESTING TO ASTHMA SUFFERERS

Daniel Bantz of Ottumwa, Iowa, writes: "I have had asthma for three or four years and have tried about all the cough and asthma cures in the market and have received treatment from physicians in New York and other cities, but got very little benefit until I tried Foley's Honey and Tar, which gave me immediate relief and I will never be without it in my house. I sincerely recommend it to all. For sale by J. A. Obermeyer, City Drug Store."

Chronic bronchial troubles and summer coughs can be quickly relieved and cured by Foley's Honey and Tar. For sale by J. A. Obermeyer, City Drug Store.

The SPORTING WORLD

Wright Going Abroad.

Boris C. Wright of Harvard is to be a member of the American team that is to compete in the tennis championship to be held in England in July. Wright has long been prominent in the national tourneys at Newport, R. I.

HEATS C. WRIGHT.

The three other members of the team will be W. A. Larnet, Holcombe Ward and W. J. Clabrier.

Hack and Jeffries.

A comparison of the measurements of Champion Jim Jeffries and Wrestler George Hackenschmidt gives Jeffries an advantage in height and weight. Hackenschmidt's weight when in prime condition is 210 pounds, while Jeffries tips the beam at 225 or possibly a little less when in condition for battle. Hackenschmidt is about a year younger than Jeffries.

In the waist each measures thirty-four inches. In other dimensions the "Russian Lion" measures from one inch to four inches more than Jeffries. The foreigner has learned some of the fine points of the boxing game from an Australian pugilist, and he may decide to enter the ring a year later. Hackenschmidt says he would like to meet Jeffries, but that it would be impossible for him to consider an engagement at this time.

Hack's engagements for the entire summer in England and believe he can make some arrangement to return here, next fall. Hackenschmidt is an all-around athlete, being equally at home at swimming, tumbling, high jumping and gymnastics. He is able to converse fluently in English, French, German, Russian, Finnish, Polish and Bulgarian dialects. Although he was born on Russian soil, his father is German and his mother a Swede.

COUNTRY CLUB

An unusually large number were present at the regular weekly dance of the Country Club Friday evening. Many who did not dance spent the evening on the spacious porch or on the moonlit lawn. Among the visitors present were Miss Marjorie, daughter of Los Angeles, Calif., who is a guest of Miss Gladys Osborne, Miss Schell Gordon of Chicago, Miss Lindvall of Chicago, Mr. Frank Robertson of Virginia, and Hy Eilers of Chicago. A number of the club members were out for the first time this season.

The following card, sent out by a Detroit commercial club, is worth reading and passing in your hat. "If there is any chance to boom business, boom it. Don't pull a long face and look as though you had a sour stomach. Hold up your head, smile and look for better things. Hide your little hammer and try to speak well of others, no matter how small you really know yourself to be. When a stranger drops in, tell him, 'This is the greatest town on earth, and this is the greatest business opportunity.' Don't discourage him by speaking all of your neighbors' faults. Lead him to believe that he has at last found a place where white people live. Don't knock. Help yourself along by becoming popular and push your friends with you. It's dead easy. Be a good fellow, and soon you will have an procession of followers. No man ever helped himself by knocking other people down in character or business. No man ever got rich by trying to make others believe he was the only man in town who knew anything. You can't climb the ladder of success by treating on other people's corns. Keep off the corns and don't knock."

MINES MAY CLOSE

Operators of Springfield Sub-District Said to Be Favorable to This Action—Several Considerations Influence Them

Springfield, June 16.—The closing down of the coal mines of the state on July 1st is believed to be a probability. The answer of the Miners' union to the request of the Illinois Coal Operators' association that the miners reimburse the operators for the extra expense involved in the operation of the shot fire law will be considered at a convention of the association in this city June 20.

At a conference of the Springfield sub-district operators Thursday the matter was discussed. It is said to have been the sentiment of the gathering that unless the miners comply with the request made, the mines should be closed down on the first of next month.

Concerning the situation in Illinois, "Black Diamond" supposed to be close to the operators and to reflect their sentiment, in today's issue makes the positive assertion that a suspension of mining July 1st is almost certain, as the result of growing sentiment in favor of meeting the miners now and fighting it out with them. "Black Diamond" says:

"Contributing features to the local situation in the west is the approaching crisis with reference to the shot fire law, which becomes effective in Illinois July 1st. This week the operators are holding district conventions in many of the districts of the state for the purpose of taking unanimous action with reference to this question. The results will not be known publicly until after the meeting of the operators' association at Springfield next Tuesday, when it is expected that final action will be taken. There seems to be a growing sentiment among the larger operating interests, however, that unless the miners proceed from the position which they have taken thus far they will be a general strike of the mines of Illinois. The operators feel that they have granted the last concession which can be granted; that they are right in the position they have taken and that the miners are wrong, and having these things in view they are not likely to make any shift from the position which they have assumed in their letter to the miners the latter part of May. Sentiment seemed to be crystallizing so far as operating interests could be reached the latter end of the week to how close to the line of policy laid down at the original meeting of the operators concerning this matter, and unless the miners shall recede from their position this means there will be trouble in the Illinois fields."

"In taking the ground they have thus far the operators feel that they have been more than just toward the miners. They have withstood many petty violations of the contract by local unions and have continually been obliged to make a fight to keep rights which enabled them to compete with adjoining bituminous states. The situation, however, has not sufficiently crystallized to have any immediate effect on market conditions and probably will not until after the meeting of the operators at Springfield next Tuesday."

Miss Mayme Price, of Chicago, is a guest at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Carrie Phillips on East College avenue.
